Subject: 2005 Annual Report on Obsolete, Unnecessary, or Duplicative Rules, as Required by Minnesota Statutes, section 14.05, subdivision 5.

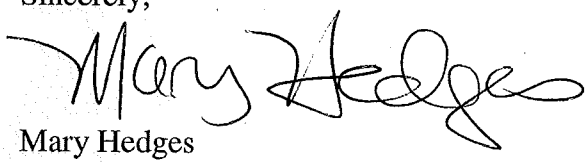
The Minnesota Emergency Medical Services Regulatory Board has completed an annual assessment of Minnesota Rules 4690, Administrative Rules Relating to Ambulance Services and EMS Training Programs.

We find that the current rules as amended in 2004 are applicable, there were no rule changes in 2005, and therefore no portion of the rules is obsolete, unnecessary, or duplicative.

The EMSRB will complete an emergency medical service communications assessment and plan update by March 2007. The completion of this project will necessitate an update and revision of the current EMS communications rules at a future date to be determined.

If you have questions regarding this report, please contact me at (612) 627-5424.

Sincerely,



Mary Hedges
Executive Director
