

7008.2000 CONDITIONALLY EXEMPT STATIONARY SOURCES; ELIGIBILITY.

Any stationary source that has no other emissions or emissions units that would require a permit under chapter 7007 may operate without a permit under this chapter. To be eligible to operate without a permit under this chapter, the stationary source must comply with all general and technical standards established by this chapter and all applicable requirements as defined in part 7007.0100, subpart 7.

If the stationary source has other emissions or emissions units, the owner or operator shall determine if a permit is required as provided in part 7007.0150. If the limits provided in this chapter are used as provided in part 7007.0150, subpart 4, for certain emissions units, the stationary source must comply with all general and technical standards established in this chapter for those emissions units.
