

A bill for an act relating to labor; protecting certain communication in the workplace between labor organizations and employees; prohibiting certain employer conduct;
providing civil remedies; proposing coding for new law in Minnesota Statutes, chapter 181.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF MINNESOTA:

Section 1. [181.985] WORKPLACE COMMUNICATIONS.

Subdivision 1. Definitions. (a) For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the meanings given them in this subdivision.

(b) "Employer" means any person, business entity, or nonprofit organization, having one or more employees in Minnesota, and includes the state and any political subdivisions of the state.

(c) "Employee" means a person who performs services for hire in Minnesota for an employer, but does not include independent contractors.

(d) "Communication" means any printed or electronic document, letter, brochure, flyer, advertisement, e-mail, text message, or similar means.

(e) "Employee organization" or "labor organization" have the same meanings given them in sections 179.01, subdivision 6, and 179A.03, subdivision 6.

Subd. 2. Prohibited practice. An employer may not refuse to hire a job applicant or discipline or discharge an employee because the applicant or employee has received or responded to a communication from an employee organization or labor organization.
Nor shall an employer prohibit an employee from receiving communications from an employee organization at their work location, work mailbox, in an employee break room or meal area, or on their work computer if conducted in accordance with reasonable, written policies and rules established by the employer and the collective bargaining agent

2.1 and posted throughout the workplace concerning review of these types of communications
2.2 during break times and nonworking time.

2.3 Subd. 3. Remedy. The remedy for a violation of this section is either through any 2.4 applicable grievance procedure if there is a collective bargaining agreement between the
2.5 employer and the employee organization involved or through a civil action for damages.
2.6 Damages are limited to wages and benefits lost by the individual because of the violation,
2.7 the costs of the organization in producing the communication, or $1,000, whichever is 2.8 greater. A court shall award any prevailing employee or employee organization in the 2.9 action court costs and reasonable attorney fees.
