Subdivision 1. When owed; rate. (a) When a judgment or award is for the recovery of money, including a judgment for the recovery of taxes, interest from the time of the verdict, award, or report until judgment is finally entered shall be computed by the court administrator or arbitrator as provided in paragraph (c) and added to the judgment or award.

(b) Except as otherwise provided by contract or allowed by law, preverdict, preaward, or prereport interest on pecuniary damages shall be computed as provided in paragraph (c) from the time of the commencement of the action or a demand for arbitration, or the time of a written notice of claim, whichever occurs first, except as provided herein. The action must be commenced within two years of a written notice of claim for interest to begin to accrue from the time of the notice of claim. After that time, interest on the judgment or award shall be calculated by the judge or arbitrator in the following manner. The prevailing party shall receive interest on any judgment or award from the time of commencement of the action or a demand for arbitration, or the time of a written notice of claim, or as to special damages from the time when special damages were incurred, if later, until the time of verdict, award, or report only if the amount of its offer is closer to the judgment or award than the amount of the opposing party's offer. 2.4 demand for arbitration, or the time of a written notice of claim, or as to special damages
2.5 from when the special damages were incurred, if later, until the time the settlement offer
2.6 was made. Subsequent offers and counteroffers supersede the legal effect of earlier offers 2.7 and counteroffers. For the purposes of clause (2), the amount of settlement offer must 2.8 be allocated between past and future damages in the same proportion as determined by 2.9 the trier of fact. Except as otherwise provided by contract or allowed by law, preverdict,
