Insurance.

An act to amend section twenty-seven (27) of chapter one hundred seventy-five (175) of the General Laws of Minnesota relating to insurance.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota:

Section 1. That section twenty-seven (27), chapter one hundred seventy-five of the General Laws of 1895 be amended so as to read as follows:

Purposes for which companies may be formed.

Section 27. Insurance companies may be formed or re-incorporated as provided in section twenty-eight for any one of the following purposes, to-wit:

First—To insure against loss or damage to property by fire, lightning, hail or tempest on land, upon the stock or mutual plan.

Second—To make insurance upon the lives of individuals, and every insurance appertaining thereto or connected therewith upon the stock or mutual plan, and to grant, purchase or dispose of annuities and endowments of any kind. Provided, no company transacting the business of life insurance in this state shall be permitted to take any other kind of risks except those connected with or appertaining to making insurance on life, or against accidents to, or sickness of, persons, and the granting, purchasing and disposing of annuities and endowments.

Third—To insure upon the stock or mutual plan vessels, freight, goods, money, effects and money lent on bottomry or respondentia, against the perils of the sea and other perils usually insured against by marines insurance, including risks of inland navigation and transportation.

Fourth—To guaranty the fidelity of persons in positions of trust, private or public, and to act as surety on official bonds, and for the performance of other obligations.

Fifth—To insure against loss or damage to the property of the assured, or loss or damage to the life, person or property of another for which the assured is liable, caused by the explosion of steam boilers.

Sixth—To insure any person against sickness or against bodily injury or death by accident; or any person, firm or corporation against loss or damage on account of the bodily injury or death by accident of any person for which loss or damage said person, firm or corporation is responsible.

Seventh—To insure against a breakage of plate glass, local or transit.

Eighth—To insure against loss by burglary or theft, or both, or attempt thereat, or loss of money or securities in course of transportation.

Ninth—To insure against loss or damage to property of the assured by water, caused by accidental breakage of automatic sprinkler heads.

Tenth—To insure against loss or damage to live stock of the assured occasioned by death of the property insured.

Eleventh—To guarantee and indemnify merchants, traders and those engaged in business and giving credit from loss and damage by reason of giving and extending credit to their customers and those dealing with them, which business shall be known as credit insurance.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved March 10, 1902.
