CHAPTER 511—S. F. No. 1044.

An act to amend Section 4, Chapter 441, General Laws 1919, as amended by Section 1, Chapter 281, Laws 1921, relative to the printing of reports and documents.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota:

Section 1. Classes of state printing.—Section 4, Chapter 441, General Laws 1919, as amended by Section 1, Chapter 281, Laws 1921, is hereby amended to read as follows:

“Section 4. The state printing and binding is hereby divided into seven classes, as follows:

Class one—All bills for the senate and house of representatives, and all resolutions and other matters not in pamphlet or book form, that may be ordered printed by either or both houses, or by the officers of either.

Class two—The journals of the senate and house of representatives, including reports and other documents properly forming a part of such journals.

Class three—All other reports and documents ordered printed in pamphlet or book form by either branch of the legislature, or authorized or required by law to be so printed, including the volumes of executive documents and the legislative manual. The following documents may be published by the printing commission in the third class and in such form and quantity as it shall direct, but the commission may edit and condense any of them, or may decline to publish such as it shall decide may be omitted without injury to the state; biennial reports of the secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, railroad and warehouse commission, and such other matter as any of them, by virtue of his office, is required by statute to publish, provided, however, that no annual report of any state department, or subdivision thereof, shall be printed and published in pamphlet or book form, except the annual reports of the insurance department and the state agricultural society, which department and society shall continue to publish annual reports as heretofore; all like reports of the board of control, insurance commissioner, department of education, public examiner, superintendent of banks, adjutant general, state librarian, expert printer, bureau of labor, dairy and food and game and fish commissioners respectively, board of pardons, commissioner of state parks and live stock sanitary board; the expense of publishing all of the foregoing documents and reports shall be paid out of the appropriation for printing, advertising and binding, except the documents and reports of the state agricultural society, which shall be paid as hereinafter provided. The reports and proceedings of the state horticultural society, the state historical society and other similar semi-official state organizations shall be printed under direction of the printing commission, but the expense for such printing and publication shall be paid from the funds of the respective societies and not out of the state funds appropriated for printing. The state agricultural society shall provide for the printing of all advertising matter, premium lists, catalogues, blanks, cards, reports and all other printing necessary for the conduct of its business and purchase such furniture, supplies and equipment as may be required by it, and the expense thereof shall be paid by such society out of its own funds. All reports of state boards, commissions and officials not herein enumerated, and all printing and binding necessary for state purposes and not payable out of the appropriation for printing, may be published or procured by such bodies or officials in the same manner as other state printing upon application to the state printer, who is hereby empowered to order same and directed to keep an account of the amount and cost of such printing and binding, the same to be paid for out of the appropriations of such boards, commissioners and officials.

Class four—The laws and joint resolutions passed by the legislature.

Class five—All blanks, circulars, and printed stationery required by the state departments including all matter usually known as job printing.

Class six—All embossed and lithographed blanks and stationery, blank books, binding, etc.

Class seven—Election ballots required by law to be printed by the state, together with tally sheets, abstracts of returns and all other blanks necessary to carry out the provisions of the law pertaining to the state primary and general election.

The commission is given directionary power to subdivide any of the above named classes and receive separate bids on such subdivisions as it may designate."

Sec. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved April 23, 1921.
