

be valid to entitle the holder to exercise the rights or privileges conferred by his license.

Sec. 11. Licenses non-transferable.—No person shall at any time lend or transfer to another, or borrow or solicit from another any license or any coupon attached thereto, or use any license or coupon not issued to him. Any person who shall at any time alter in any material manner any license shall be guilty of a forgery.

Sec. 12. Reports to Game and Fish Commissioner.—For the purpose of enabling the commissioner to prepare statistics relating to the number of wild animals in the state, every person who has taken any protected wild quadruped or game bird, whether with or without a license, shall, on or before the last day of January in each year, mail or deliver to the commissioner a written report on a form prepared by the commissioner and furnished on application made to the commissioner or to any game warden, county auditor, or agent of the commissioner authorized to issue licenses, stating the number of each kind of protected quadrupeds and game birds taken by such person during the preceding calendar year. No person who is required to make such a report shall be entitled to hunt, trap, or take any wild quadruped or game bird until such report has been made. No person to whom a hunting or trapping license has been issued or who wilfully fails or neglects to make such a report shall be granted a license of the same kind for the year succeeding the year for which his license was issued, and if a new license of the same kind has been issued to such person it shall be null and void and shall be surrendered upon demand to the commissioner or to any game warden. As soon as practicable in each year the commissioner shall furnish to each county auditor, game warden, and agent authorized to issue licenses a list of the names of all persons to whom licenses were issued by or within the county or territory of such auditor, game warden, or agent during the preceding year and who have failed to make the report hereby required. No such county auditor, game warden, or agent shall issue a license of the same kind for the current year to any person whose name appears upon such list as delinquent in this regard.

Sec. 13. Inconsistent acts repealed.—All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.
