CHAPTER 527—S. F. No. 361
[Coded as Sections 540.151 to 540.154]

An act relating to judicial procedure, parties to actions, and service of judicial process and certain other notices.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota :

[540.151] Suability of certain persons and associations; labor organizations; employer organizations. Section 1. When two or more persons associate and act, whether for profit or not, under a common name, including associating and acting as a labor organization or employer organization, whether such common name comprises the names of such persons or not, they may sue in or be sued by such common name, and the summons may be served on one or more of them. The judgment in such cases shall accrue to the joint or common benefit of and bind the joint or common property of the associates, the same as though all had been named as parties to the action.

[540.152] Certain transactions or activities suable; service; notice; jurisdiction. Sec. 2. The transaction of any acts, business or activities within the State of Minnesota by any officer, agent, representative, employee or member of any Union or other groups or associations having officers, agents, members or property without the State on behalf of such Union or other groups or associations or any of its members or affiliated local unions shall be deemed an appointment by such Union or other groups or associations of the Secretary of State of the State of Minnesota to be the true and lawful attorney of such Union or other groups or associations, upon whom may be served all legal processes or notices in any action or proceeding against or involving said Union or other groups or associations growing out of such acts, business or activities within the State of Minnesota resulting in damage or loss to person or property or giving rise to any cause of action under the laws of the State of Minnesota or to any matters or proceedings arising under the Minnesota Labor Relations Act, and such acts, business or activities shall be
