

Sec. 6, C. 153,
Laws 1895,
amended.

Powers of justice of peace
to commit.

SEC. 2. That section six (6) of chapter one hundred and fifty-three (153) of the General Laws of the State of Minnesota for one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (1895) be amended so as to read as follows:

"That no justice of the peace shall have the power to commit any infant to the state training school upon the charge of incorrigibility, incorrigibly vicious conduct, vagrancy, or any other cause, unless such charge is proved by the evidence of at least two (2) witnesses; and no commitment of any infant convicted before a justice of the peace upon a charge of incorrigibility, incorrigibly vicious conduct, vagrancy, or any other cause, shall be sufficient to justify the admission of said incorrigible infant into said state training school, unless such commitment be approved by a judge of the district court of the district to which the county from which said infant is committed belongs, and no other consent or approval of any officer whatever shall be necessary; and in all cases where an infant is convicted before a justice of the peace for any cause, the evidence must show the name, age, residence and occupation of each witness examined, and the justice of the peace shall reduce all the evidence taken before him to writing and transmit the same forthwith to a judge of the district court of the district to which the county from which said infant is convicted belongs, and it shall be the duty of said judge to examine such evidence so transmitted to him and to approve or disapprove of such conviction forthwith. If the conviction of the justice of the peace is approved by such judge the infant shall forthwith be committed to the guardianship of the said board of managers; provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to convictions had in any municipal court in any county of the State of Minnesota containing a population of more than ten thousand (10,000) inhabitants.

Not to apply to municipal courts in counties of over 10,000.

SEC. 3. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved April 11, 1899.
