CHAPTER 541—S. F. No. 882

(Amending Minnesota Statutes 1945, Section 176.667).

An act relating to the filing of X-ray films and X-ray reports under the occupational disease amendment to the Workmen's Compensation Law, amending Chapter 633, Laws of Minnesota for 1943, Section 13.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota:

Chapter 633, Laws of Minnesota for 1943, Section 13, is amended to read as follows:

Sec. 13. Employees to submit to medical examination. Each employee, hereafter entering the service of an employer whose business is one in which the hazard of silicosis or asbestosis is involved, who will be exposed to such hazard because of such employment, shall at the request of the employer, submit to a medical examination for the purpose of determining whether such employee can safely be employed in such hazardous employment. The cost of such medical examination shall be borne by the employer.

Within one year after the effective date of this act, and annually thereafter, each employee engaged in employment which exposes him to the hazards of silicosis or asbestosis shall submit to a medical examination for the purpose of determining whether he is affected in any degree by silicosis or asbestosis, or peculiarly or especially susceptible to either of such diseases. The cost of such examination shall be equally divided between the employer and the employee. The findings and reports of the doctor making each such examination, together with X-ray films and other original exhibits, shall be filed in the office of the commission, and available to the department of health, provided that the commission shall be empowered to order, in such cases as it shall deem advisable, that the X-ray films be filed in any other suitable depository which the commission may designate, such films to be available to the department of health. Any such report is a public record, but may be used only for the purposes of this act.

Upon the termination of an employee's service the employer may request employee to submit to a final medical examination by giving the employee leaving his service ten (10) days notice in writing of the time and place that the medical examination is to be made, which notice may be delivered to such employee personally or mailed to his last known address. Any employee who wilfully fails or refuses to submit to such medical examination upon leaving the service of an employer, shall thereby waive any right to compensation from such employer for such occupational disease which later develops. The employer shall forthwith notify the commission in writing, of the employee's failure to submit to such medical examination, and such notice shall be filed in the office of the commission as in the case of medical reports, and shall serve as notice of termination of liability of such employer arising out of any claim by such individual, or by a subsequent employer because of the claim of such individual. The cost of such examination shall be borne by the employer.
