

State of Minnesota

H. F. No. 1174

(e) Notification of discharge in the future, including a layoff because of lack of work, is not a good reason caused by the employer for quitting.

(f) An applicant has a good reason caused by the employer for quitting if it results from sexual harassment of which the employer was aware, or should have been aware, and the employer failed to take timely and appropriate action. Sexual harassment means unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, sexually motivated physical contact or other conduct or communication of a sexual nature when:

(1) the applicant's submission to the conduct or communication is made a term or condition of the employment;

(2) the applicant's submission to or rejection of the conduct or communication is the basis for decisions affecting employment; or

(3) the conduct or communication has the purpose or effect of substantially interfering with an applicant's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment.

(g) An applicant has a good reason caused by the employer for quitting if it results because the employer denied the applicant's request for reasonable time off from scheduled work in order to deal with a matter of such a compelling nature that an average, reasonable worker would, under the circumstances, miss scheduled work.

(h) The definition of a good reason caused by the employer for quitting employment provided by this subdivision is exclusive and no other definition applies.

Sec. 2. Minnesota Statutes 2018, section 268.101, subdivision 2, is amended to read:

Subd. 2. Determination. (a) The commissioner must determine any issue of ineligibility raised by information required from an applicant under subdivision 1, paragraph (a) or (c), and send to the applicant and any involved employer, by mail or electronic transmission, a document titled a determination of eligibility or a determination of ineligibility, as is appropriate. The determination on an issue of ineligibility as a result of a quit or a discharge of the applicant must state the effect on the employer under section 268.047. A determination must be made in accordance with this paragraph even if a notified employer has not raised the issue of ineligibility.

(b) The commissioner must determine any issue of ineligibility raised by an employer and send to the applicant and that employer, by mail or electronic transmission, a document titled a determination of eligibility or a determination of ineligibility as is appropriate. The

3.1 determination on an issue of ineligibility as a result of a quit or discharge of the applicant
3.2 must state the effect on the employer under section 268.047.

3.3 If a base period employer:

3.4 (1) was not the applicant's most recent employer before the application for unemployment
3.5 benefits;

3.6 (2) did not employ the applicant during the six calendar months before the application
3.7 for unemployment benefits; and

3.8 (3) did not raise an issue of ineligibility as a result of a quit or discharge of the applicant
3.9 within ten calendar days of notification under subdivision 1, paragraph (b);

3.10 then any exception under section 268.047, subdivisions 2 and 3, begins the Sunday two
3.11 weeks following the week that the issue of ineligibility as a result of a quit or discharge of 3.12 the applicant was raised by the employer.

3.13 A communication from an employer must specifically set out why the applicant should
3.14 be determined ineligible for unemployment benefits for that communication to be considered
3.15 to have raised an issue of ineligibility for purposes of this section. A statement of "protest"
3.16 or a similar term without more information does not constitute raising an issue of ineligibility
3.17 for purposes of this section.

3.18 (c) Subject to section 268.031, an issue of ineligibility is determined based upon that
3.19 information required of an applicant, any information that may be obtained from an applicant
3.20 or employer, and information from any other source.

3.21 (d) Regardless of the requirements of this subdivision, the commissioner is not required
3.22 to send to an applicant a copy of the determination where the applicant has satisfied a period
3.23 of ineligibility because of a quit or a discharge under section 268.095, subdivision 10.

3.24 (e) The department is authorized to issue a determination on an issue of ineligibility
3.25 within 24 months from the establishment of a benefit account based upon information from
3.26 any source, even if the issue of ineligibility was not raised by the applicant or an employer.

3.27 If an applicant obtained unemployment benefits through misrepresentation under section
3.28 268.18, subdivision 2, the department is authorized to issue a determination of ineligibility
3.29 within 48 months of the establishment of the benefit account.

3.30 If the department has filed an intervention in a worker's compensation matter under
3.31 section 176.361, the department is authorized to issue a determination of ineligibility within
3.32 48 months of the establishment of the benefit account.

(f) A determination of eligibility or determination of ineligibility is final unless an appeal is filed by the applicant or employer within 20 calendar days after sending, or within 60 calendar days if an applicant or notified employer establishes good cause for not appealing within 20 days. Good cause is a reason that would have prevented an applicant or notified employer from acting with due diligence in appealing within 20 days and shall take into account any illness, disabilities, or linguistic and literacy limitations of the applicant along with other relevant factors. If an applicant or notified employer claims good cause for a late appeal, the applicant or notified employer must be granted a hearing on the issue of timeliness. This hearing can be held at the same time as a hearing on the merits of the appeal. The determination must contain a prominent statement indicating the consequences of not appealing. Proceedings on the appeal are conducted in accordance with section 268.105.

(g) An issue of ineligibility required to be determined under this section includes any question regarding the denial or allowing of unemployment benefits under this chapter except for issues under section 268.07. An issue of ineligibility for purposes of this section includes any question of effect on an employer under section 268.047.

Sec. 3. Minnesota Statutes 2018, section 268.101, subdivision 4, is amended to read:

Subd. 4. Amended determination. Unless an appeal has been filed, the commissioner, on the commissioner's own motion, may reconsider a determination of eligibility or determination of ineligibility that has not become final and issue an amended determination. Any amended determination must be sent to the applicant and any involved employer by mail or electronic transmission. Any amended determination is final unless an appeal is filed by the applicant or notified employer within 20 calendar days after sending, or within 60 calendar days if an applicant or notified employer establishes good cause for not appealing within 20 days. Good cause is a reason that would have prevented an applicant or notified employer from acting with due diligence in appealing within 20 days and shall take into account any illness, disabilities, or linguistic and literacy limitations of the applicant along with other relevant factors. If an applicant or notified employer claims good cause for a late appeal, the applicant or notified employer must be granted a hearing on the issue of timeliness. This hearing can be held at the same time as a hearing on the merits of the appeal. Proceedings on the appeal are conducted in accordance with section 268.105.
