SENATE STATE OF MINNESOTA NINETY-SECOND SESSION

S.F. No. 1313

(SENATE AUTHORS: HOUSLEY, Kiffmeyer and Koran) DATE 02/22/2021 D-PG Introduction and first reading 490 Referred to Civil Law and Data Practices Policy

OFFICIAL STATUS

A bill for an act 1.1 relating to family law; modifying parenting time provisions; amending Minnesota 12 Statutes 2020, section 518.175, subdivision 1. 1.3 BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF MINNESOTA: 1.4 Section 1. Minnesota Statutes 2020, section 518.175, subdivision 1, is amended to read: 1.5 Subdivision 1. General. (a) In all proceedings for dissolution or legal separation, 1.6 subsequent to the commencement of the proceeding and continuing thereafter during the 1.7 minority of the child, the court shall, upon the request of either parent, grant such parenting 1.8 1.9 time on behalf of the child and a parent as will enable the child and the parent to maintain a child to parent relationship that will be in the best interests of the child. The court shall 1.10 use a rebuttable presumption that it is in the best interests of the child to protect each 1.11 individual parent-child relationship by maximizing the child's time with each parent. The 1.12 court, when issuing a parenting time order, may reserve a determination as to the future 1.13 establishment or expansion of a parent's parenting time. In that event, the best interest 1.14 standard set forth in subdivision 5, paragraph (a), shall be applied to a subsequent motion 1.15 to establish or expand parenting time. 1.16 (b) If the court finds, after a hearing, that parenting time with a parent is likely to endanger 1.17 the child's physical, mental, or emotional health or safety or impair the child's emotional 1.18 development, the court shall restrict parenting time with that parent as to time, place, duration, 1.19 or supervision and may deny parenting time entirely, as the circumstances warrant. The 1.20 court shall consider the age of the child and the child's relationship with the parent prior to 1.21 the commencement of the proceeding. 1.22

2.1 (c) A parent's failure to pay support because of the parent's inability to do so shall not
2.2 be sufficient cause for denial of parenting time.

- 2.3 (d) The court may provide that a law enforcement officer or other appropriate person 2.4 will accompany a party seeking to enforce or comply with parenting time.
- (e) Upon request of either party, to the extent practicable an order for parenting time must include a specific schedule for regular parenting time, including the frequency and duration of visitation parenting time and visitation parenting time during holidays and, vacations, and school breaks, unless parenting time is restricted, denied, or reserved.
- (f) The court administrator shall provide a form for a pro se motion regarding parenting time disputes, which includes provisions for indicating the relief requested, an affidavit in which the party may state the facts of the dispute, and a brief description of the parenting time expeditor process under section 518.1751. The form may not include a request for a change of custody. The court shall provide instructions on serving and filing the motion.
- (g) In the absence of other evidence, Unless otherwise agreed, there is a rebuttable 2.14 presumption that a the court shall award each parent is entitled to receive a minimum of 25 2.15 50 percent of the parenting time for the child. If it is not practicable to award 50 percent of 2.16 the parenting time to each parent, the court shall maximize parenting time for each parent 2.17 as close as possible to the 50 percent presumption. For purposes of this paragraph, the 2.18 percentage of parenting time may be determined by calculating the number of overnights 2.19 that a child spends with a parent or by using a method other than overnights if the parent 2.20 has significant time periods on separate days when the child is in the parent's physical 2.21 custody but does not stay overnight. The court may consider the age of the child in 2.22 determining whether a child is with a parent for a significant period of time. 2.23

2.24 (h) In a parenting time order, the court must include findings regarding:

2.25 (1) the ability of each parent to comply with the awarded parenting time schedule; and

- 2.26 (2) if a court deviates from the parenting time presumption under paragraph (g) and the
- 2.27 parties have not otherwise made a parenting time agreement, the court shall make written
- 2.28 findings of fact supported by clear and convincing evidence that the deviation results from
- 2.29 one or more of the following circumstances:
- 2.30 (i) a parent has a mental illness that was diagnosed by a licensed physician or by a
- 2.31 licensed psychologist, and the mental illness endangers the safety of the child based on the
- 2.32 opinion of the licensed physician or the licensed psychologist treating the parent;

(i) In as	sessing whether to de	eviate from the	parenting time presumption	in paragraph
(g), the court shall consider that a reduction in a parent's parenting time may impair the parent's abi	lity to parent the chil	d, which may h	ave a negative impact on th	e child.
(j) If a c	child does not have a	relationship wit	h a parent due to the parent	's absence for one year or	more with minimal o	or no contact wi	th the child, or if the child i	s one year old or younger,	, the court may order	a gradual increa	ase in parenting time. If the	court orders a gradual inc	rease in parenting tin	ne, the gradual i	ncrease shall only be in effe	ect for a period of one year	or less, at which time	the order shall p	provide for a parenting time	schedule based on the pare	nting time presumption	on in paragraph	(g).
(k) The	court shall not limit	parenting time f	for a parent based solely on	the age of the child. If the	e child is five years ol	d or younger at	the time that the parenting	time schedule s establishe	ed and the order does	not provide for e	equal parenting time, the ord	er must include a provision	for a possible future	modification of	f the parenting time order.
