relating to children; establishing a presumption of joint physical custody; creating the Children's Equal and Shared Parenting Act; requiring certain parenting plans; amending Minnesota Statutes 2010, sections 257.541; 518.003, subdivision 3; 518.091; 518.131, subdivision 1; 518.156; 518.167, subdivision 2; 518.175, subdivision 1; 518.18; proposing coding for new law in Minnesota Statutes, chapter 518; repealing Minnesota Statutes 2010, section 518.17, subdivision 2.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF MINNESOTA:

Section 1. Minnesota Statutes 2010, section 257.541, is amended to read:

257.541 CUSTODY AND PARENTING TIME WITH CHILDREN BORN OUTSIDE OF MARRIAGE.

Subdivision 1. Mother's right to custody. The biological mother of a child born to a mother who was not married to the child's father when the child was born and was not married to the child's father when the child was conceived has sole custody of the child until paternity has been established under sections 257.51 to 257.74, or until custody is determined in a separate proceeding under section 518.156.

Subd. 2. Father's right to parenting time and custody. (a) If paternity has been acknowledged under section 257.34 and paternity has been established under sections 257.51 to 257.74, the father's rights of parenting time or custody are determined under sections 518.169, 518.17₂ and 518.175.

(b) If paternity has not been acknowledged under section 257.34 and paternity has been established under sections 257.51 to 257.74, the biological father may petition for rights of parenting time or custody in the paternity proceeding or in a separate proceeding under section 518.156. The rights of parenting time or custody must be determined under section 518.169.

2.1 Subd. 3. Father's right to parenting time and custody; recognition of paternity.
2.2 If paternity has been recognized under section 257.75, the father may petition for rights of 2.3 parenting time or custody in an independent action under section 518.156. The proceeding
2.4 must be treated as an initial determination of custody under section 518.17. The provisions 2.5 of ~~chapter 518~~ section 518.169 apply with respect to the granting of custody and parenting 2.6 time. An action to determine custody and parenting time may be commenced pursuant 2.7 to chapter 518 without an adjudication of parentage. These proceedings may not be 2.8 combined with any proceeding under chapter 518B.

2.9 EFFECTIVE DATE. This section is effective for temporary orders and child
2.10 custody determinations made on or after January 1, 2012.

2.21 residence of the child is structured between the parties: and that the parents share time
2.22 with the child equally. For purposes of this definition, "equally" means at least 45.1 2.23 percent parenting time for each parent.

2.24 (e) Wherever used in this chapter, the term "custodial parent" or "custodian" means 2.25 the person who has the physical custody of the child at any particular time.

2.27 providing for the custody of a child, including parenting time, but does not include a

6.23 collected during mediation only if agreed to in writing by all parties. Upon order of the 6.24 court, the investigator may refer the child to professional personnel for diagnosis. The 7.3 Sec. 7. [518.169] CHILDREN'S EQUAL AND SHARED PARENTING ACT.

7.4 Subdivision 1. Public policy. (a) The legislature, recognizing the importance 7.5 of protections afforded children by their ability to develop strong parental bonds, and 7.6 recognizing the fundamental interest of liberty that parents enjoy respecting the care, 7.7 custody, and companionship of their children, finds and declares the following with 7.8 respect to the intent of Minnesota laws relating to families:

7.9 (1) an intact, involved two-parent home provides the optimal environment through 7.10 which children grow into productive and responsible adult citizens;

7.11 (2) parents are primary in the nurturing and development of their children. Our 7.12 society, state, and statutes are secondary structures designed to support, not supplant, both 7.13 parents in their role as the primary shapers of their children;

7.14 (3) mothers and fathers provide unique and invaluable contributions toward the 7.15 development of their children. Each parent's contributions to the upbringing of their 7.16 children are indistinguishable and equally necessary to assure children the best opportunity 7.17 to develop into healthy citizens;

7.18 (4) children should be separated from their parents only under the most compelling 7.19 and unusual circumstances in order to protect a child from substantial and imminent harm;

7.20 (5) children should have frequent and continuing physical contact with both parents 7.21 under joint legal and physical custody when the parents live separately, including after 7.22 parental separation or dissolution of marriage. The proper role of the state is to interfere to 7.23 the least degree in familial relationships with the specific purpose of preserving maximum 7.24 time allocations with each parent and their children;

7.25 (6) parents may, and should be encouraged to, reach any agreement mutually 7.26 acceptable to them regarding their parenting time allocations that reflects the individual 7.27 circumstances of the parents. In the event parents cannot reach agreement on a parenting 7.28 arrangement, it is the specific intent of Minnesota law that parents have a right to a 7.29 rebuttable presumption of equal time with their children; and 7.30 (7) the judiciary in contested custody proceedings should demonstrate consistent 7.31 application of the presumption in favor of joint legal and joint physical custody in order to 7.32 minimize the adversarial nature of custody proceedings.

7.33 (b) The purpose of this section is to prevent children from being alienated or 7.34 disenfranchised from their parents' lives through the interference of either parent.

8.1 (c) This section establishes clear legislative policy regarding the relationship of 8.2 children with each parent when the parents live separately.

8.3 (d) In accordance with the findings in paragraph (a), the legislature declares that 8.4 public policy is advanced and the best interests of children are promoted through equal and 8.5 shared parenting and the recognition of both parents' fundamental freedoms to actively 8.6 participate in the care, custody, and companionship of their children.

8.7 Subd. 2. Joint custody. (a) In cases of marital dissolution or unmarried parentage, 8.8 when paternity has been established, both parents enjoy a rebuttable presumption of joint 8.9 legal and joint physical custody of their children, and a rebuttable presumption the court 8.10 will award a parenting minimum of 45.1 percent for each parent.

8.11 (b) The burden of overcoming the presumption rests on the parent challenging the 8.12 presumption. The presumption may only be overcome by demonstrating an unfitness of 8.13 the parent being challenged that would cause substantial harm to the children. The clear 8.14 and convincing evidence standard must be used in making a fitness determination.

8.15 (c) Knowingly making false allegations of child or spousal abuse is sufficient 8.16 grounds to challenge the parental fitness of the accuser. Allegations raised in the context 8.17 of divorce or custody proceedings deserve heightened scrutiny as to their veracity.

8.18 (d) Allegations of substance abuse, mental illness, spousal or child abuse or neglect, 8.19 and any subsequent issuance of protective orders are not sufficient to cause cessation or 8.20 reduction in parent and child contact. When the fitness of a parent is challenged, the court 8.21 must find by clear and convincing evidence that the parent's behaviors would qualify 8.22 the parent's child to be found in need of protection or services under section 260C.007, 8.23 subdivisions 13 and 15, or the parent is found to meet the criteria as a chemically 8.24 dependent person under section 253B.02, subdivision 2. In no instance may the court limit 8.25 parent and child contact absent compelling necessity to prevent substantial and imminent 8.26 harm to the child.

8.27 (e) The court shall provide written findings of fact and conclusions of law when 8.28 entering an order that does not maintain the presumption of joint legal and joint physical 8.29 custody. The court must make written findings that enumerate which of the factors in this 8.30 subdivision are applicable and by what evidence these factors were demonstrated.

8.31 (f) If the court finds that a party has overcome the presumption in favor of joint 8.32 physical custody, the court shall use the best interest standards in section 257.025 or 8.33 518.17, subdivision 1, as applicable, to make its determination for custodial arrangements.

8.34 EFFECTIVE DATE. This section is effective for temporary orders and child
8.35 custody determinations made on or after January 1, 2011.

S.F. No. 1402, as introduced - 87th Legislative Session (2011-2012) [11-1232]

9.1 Sec. 8. Minnesota Statutes 2010, section 518.175, subdivision 1, is amended to read:

9.2 Subdivision 1. General. (a) In all proceedings for dissolution or legal separation, 9.3 subsequent to the commencement of the proceeding and continuing thereafter during 9.4 the minority of the child, the court shall, upon the request of either parent, grant such 9.5 parenting time on behalf of the child and a parent as will enable the child and the parent to 9.6 maintain a child to parent relationship that will be in the best interests of the child.

9.7 If the court finds, after a hearing, that parenting time with a parent is likely 9.8 to endanger the child's physical or emotional health or impair the child's emotional 9.9 development, the court shall restrict parenting time with that parent as to time, place, 9.10 duration, or supervision and may deny parenting time entirely, as the circumstances 9.11 warrant. The court shall consider the age of the child and the child's relationship with the 9.12 parent prior to the commencement of the proceeding.

9.13 A parent's failure to pay support because of the parent's inability to do so shall not be 9.14 sufficient cause for denial of parenting time.

9.15 (b) The court may provide that a law enforcement officer or other appropriate person 9.16 will accompany a party seeking to enforce or comply with parenting time.

9.17 (c) Upon request of either party, to the extent practicable an order for parenting 9.18 time must include a specific schedule for parenting time, including the frequency and 9.19 duration of visitation and visitation during holidays and vacations, unless parenting time 9.20 is restricted, denied, or reserved.

9.21 (d) The court administrator shall provide a form for a pro se motion regarding 9.22 parenting time disputes, which includes provisions for indicating the relief requested, an 9.23 affidavit in which the party may state the facts of the dispute, and a brief description of 9.24 the parenting time expeditor process under section 518.1751. The form may not include 9.25 a request for a change of custody. The court shall provide instructions on serving and 9.26 filing the motion.

9.27 (e) In the absence of other evidence, there is a rebuttable presumption that a 9.28 parent is entitled to receive at least ~~25~~ 45.1 percent of the parenting time for the child.
9.29 For purposes of this paragraph, the percentage of parenting time may be determined 9.30 by calculating the number of overnights that a child spends with a parent or by using a 9.31 method other than overnights if the parent has significant time periods on separate days 9.32 when the child is in the parent's physical custody but does not stay overnight. If the court 9.33 finds that a party has overcome the presumption in favor of joint physical custody, the 9.34 court may consider the age of the child in determining whether a child is with a parent 9.35 for a significant period of time.

10.1 EFFECTIVE DATE. This section is effective for child custody determinations 10.2 made on or after January 1, 2012.

10.3 Sec. 9. Minnesota Statutes 2010, section 518.18, is amended to read:

10.4 518.18 MODIFICATION OF ORDER.

10.5 (a) Unless agreed to in writing by the parties, no motion to modify a custody order 10.6 or parenting plan may be made earlier than one year after the date of the entry of a decree 10.7 of dissolution or legal separation containing a provision dealing with custody, except in 10.8 accordance with paragraph (c).

10.9 (b) If a motion for modification has been heard, whether or not it was granted, unless 10.10 agreed to in writing by the parties no subsequent motion may be filed within two years 10.11 after disposition of the prior motion on its merits, except in accordance with paragraph (c).

10.12 (c) The time limitations prescribed in paragraphs (a) and (b) shall not prohibit a 10.13 motion to modify a custody order or parenting plan if the court finds that there is persistent 10.14 and willful denial or interference with parenting time, or has reason to believe that the 10.15 child's present environment may endanger the child's physical or emotional health or 10.16 impair the child's emotional development.

10.17 (d) If the court has jurisdiction to determine child custody matters, the court shall 10.18 not modify a prior custody order or a parenting plan provision which specifies the child's 10.19 primary residence unless it finds, upon the basis of facts, including unwarranted denial of, 10.20 or interference with, a duly established parenting time schedule, that have arisen since the 10.21 prior order or that were unknown to the court at the time of the prior order, that a change 10.22 has occurred in the circumstances of the child or the parties and that the modification is 10.23 necessary to serve the best interests of the child. In applying these standards the court 10.24 shall retain the custody arrangement or the parenting plan provision specifying the child's 10.25 primary residence that was established by the prior order unless:

10.26 (i) the court finds that a change in the custody arrangement or primary residence is in 10.27 the best interests of the child and the parties previously agreed, in a writing approved by a 10.28 court, to apply the best interests standard in section 518.17 or 257.025, as applicable; and,
10.29 with respect to agreements approved by a court on or after April 28, 2000, both parties 10.30 were represented by counsel when the agreement was approved or the court found the 10.31 parties were fully informed, the agreement was voluntary, and the parties were aware 10.32 of its implications;

10.33 (ii) both parties agree to the modification;

10.34 (iii) the child has been integrated into the family of the petitioner with the consent 10.35 of the other party;

S.F. No. 1402, as introduced - 87th Legislative Session (2011-2012) [11-1232]

11.1 (iv) the child's present environment endangers the child's physical or emotional 11.2 health or impairs the child's emotional development and the harm likely to be caused by a 11.3 change of environment is outweighed by the advantage of a change to the child; or 11.4 (v) the court has denied a request of the primary custodial parent to move the 11.5 residence of the child to another state, and the primary custodial parent has relocated 11.6 to another state despite the court's order.

11.7 In addition, a court may modify a custody order or parenting plan under section 11.8 631.52.

11.9 (e) In deciding whether to modify a prior joint custody order, the court shall apply 11.10 the standards set forth in paragraph (d) unless: (1) the parties agree in writing to the 11.11 application of a different standard, or (2) the party seeking the modification is asking the 11.12 court for permission to move the residence of the child to another state.

11.13 (f) If a parent has been granted sole physical custody of a minor and the child 11.14 subsequently lives with the other parent, and temporary sole physical custody has been 11.15 approved by the court or by a court-appointed referee, the court may suspend the obligor's 11.16 child support obligation pending the final custody determination. The court's order 11.17 denying the suspension of child support must include a written explanation of the reasons 11.18 why continuation of the child support obligation would be in the best interests of the child.

11.19 (g) Except as expressly provided, an enactment, amendment, or repeal of law does 11.20 not constitute grounds for a modification of a child custody order.
