645.27 STATE BOUND BY STATUTE; WHEN.

The state is not bound by the passage of a law unless named therein, or unless the words of the act are so plain, clear, and unmistakable as to leave no doubt as to the intention of the legislature.

History: 1941 c 492 s 27