545.02 MOTIONS, WHERE NOTICED AND HEARD. Motions for judgment on the pleadings may be heard and determined at the regular or special term of the court held in any county of the district, or at any time and place within the district which a judge thereof shall fix. All motions of which notice is required to be given shall be made, and all default matters shall be heard, within the judicial district, or at some place in an adjoining district which is nearer, by railway, to the county-seat of the county in which the action is pending than is the residence of the nearest qualified judge of the district of which such county is a part. Orders so made by the judge of another district shall be filed in the county of the venue, with like effect as though made by a judge of the local district. In any county having two special terms of court each month, all motions in actions pending therein shall be made in such county.
