When the agreement is signed, acknowledged, filed for record, and published as required by Minnesota Statutes 2004, section 300.14, the separate existence of the constituent corporations ceases and they become a single corporation in accordance with the agreement, possessing all the rights, privileges, powers, franchises, and immunities and subject to all the liabilities and duties of each of the consolidating corporations. The rights, privileges, powers, franchises, and immunities of each of the corporations and all property, and all debts owing on whatever account, and all other things in action of or belonging to each of the corporations are vested in the consolidated corporation, and all property, rights, privileges, powers, franchises, immunities, and other interests are thereafter as effectually the property of the consolidated corporation as they were of the several and respective constituent corporations. All rights of creditors and all liens upon the property of either of the constituent corporations are preserved unimpaired, and are limited in lien to the property affected by the lien at the time of the consolidation. All debts, liabilities, and duties of the constituent corporations attach to the consolidated corporation and may be enforced against it to the same extent as if the debts, liabilities, and duties had been incurred or contracted by it.

300.64 LIABILITY OF STOCKHOLDERS AND DIRECTORS.

Subdivision 1. Withdrawal of capital and refund to stockholders. If the capital stock of a manufacturing corporation is withdrawn and refunded to the stockholders before the payment of corporate debts for which it would have been liable, the stockholders are liable to a creditor, to the amount of the sum refunded to each of them, respectively. If, in an action under this statute, a stockholder is compelled to pay a debt, the stockholder may call upon every stockholder to whom any part of the stock has been refunded to contribute a proportionate share of the sum so paid by the stockholder.

Subd. 2. Payment of dividend by director when corporation is insolvent. If the directors pay a dividend when the corporation is insolvent, knowing that the corporation is insolvent, or that the dividend would render it so, or when its payment would render it insolvent, those assenting to the payment are jointly and severally liable in an action on the statute for all debts due from the corporation at the time of the dividend.

Subd. 3. Liability of officers and directors for corporate debt. Every officer who intentionally neglects or refuses to perform a duty imposed by law is liable for all corporate debts contracted during the period of the neglect. If the corporation violates a provision of law whereby it becomes insolvent, the directors ordering or assenting to the violation are liable in an action under the statute for all debts contracted after the violation.

Subd. 4. Elimination or limitation of liability. A director's personal liability to the corporation or its stockholders or members for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director may be eliminated or limited in the certificate. The certificate shall not eliminate or limit the liability of a director:

- (1) for a breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its stockholders or members;
- (2) for acts or omissions not in good faith or that involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law;
- (3) for acts prohibited under Minnesota Statutes 2004, section 300.60;
- (4) under subdivision 1, 2, or 3;
- (5) for a transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit; or
- (6) for an act or omission occurring prior to the date when the provision in the certificate eliminating or limiting liability becomes effective.

Every officer of the corporation or other person who fraudulently issues, or causes to be issued, any stock, scrip, or evidence of corporate debt, or who sells, offers for sale, pledges as security, or otherwise disposes of stock, scrip, or evidence of debt, knowing it to be fraudulently issued, is guilty of a felony.
